State/District Assessment Results:

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Health Summary: Triennial/ Re-Evaluation IEP Health Assessment for Shalev completed with information provided by review of school records, parent interview, and office visit by Shalev. Shalev is in 2nd grade at Serrania Charter. Shalev has had no changes to his health within the last year. No history of serious or chronic illnesses, accidents, surgeries, or hospitalizations. Shalev was assessed by a private developmental optometrist on 2/26/19. According to their assessment, Shalev has Convergence Insufficiency and Oculomotor Dysfunction. The recommendations include: Optometric Vision Therapy, 20 office visits, supported with daily home procedures, no prescription eyeglasses at this time, and annual eye examinations with vision care provider. Accommodations from the eye doctor include: allow the use of a line marker to help keep place when reading, printed material presented in no smaller than 14-18 pt font, presented pages to be less visually dense (i.e. less printed on a page to help avoid visual confusion).

Strengths: Student passed the LAUSD Hearing screen on 2/1/19, and vision screen on 4/2/19. Per mom, he is in good general health. Shalev is independent in all his activities of daily living, and requires no assistance with mobility.

Area of Need: According to optometrist report, Vision is an area of need.

Impact of Disability: Physical Health does not adversely affect the student's participation, performance, and access in the educational program.

Accommodations/Modifications: Student will be allowed to use materials as recommended from vision therapy assessment results for the use of a line marker to keep place when reading, printed material no smaller than 14-18 pt font, and presented pages to be less visually dense to help avoid visual confusion.

Reading

Assessment/Monitoring Process Used:

State/District Assessment Results:

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Strengths: Shalev identifies alphabet letter names with teacher modeling and maximum support. With adult modeling and support, Shalev can blend CVC words in isolation. Shalev knows some simple sight words with some verbal cues, such as a, cat, the, and, like, or I. Shalev attends during read aloud and demonstrates appropriate listening skills with some reminders. Shalev can answer literal type questions and inferential type questions. Shalev has the desire to learn how to read. He understands to read from left to right and top to bottom. He enjoys read aloud and will often ask an adult to read to him during their 'book look' time or he will join in on some peers who are looking through a book.

Needs: Shalev needs support in blending single syllable short vowel words with and without blends. (e.g. flag, crash, this, etc.) During reading groups, Shalev will sometimes say, 'I don't know how to read' and leave the class or disrupt other students. Shalev has memorized many common phrases in stories which impacts his progress in reading. He begins to recite what he has memorized and does not look at the text. Shalev needs support in identifying target words and sight words in context. Shalev has a harder time recognizing them in sentences as opposed to in isolation.

Impact of Disability: Shalev's eligibility of Specific Learning disability impacts his ability to read which impacts his involvement and progress in the general education curriculum.

Assessment/Monitoring Process Used:

Benchmark Advance, Informal, Observations

State/District Assessment Results:

CELDT-4

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Strengths: Shalev is highly verbal. He can communicate his basic needs and emotions with appropriate grammar and vocabulary. Shalev can retell information in the appropriate sequence using visual supports. He can also explain information with minimal prompting. Shalev shows good listening comprehension. Shalev was recently assessed with the ELPAC, but results are not yet available. Informal observation notes were taken. During the speaking portion, Shalev was able to answer the questions appropriately and demonstrate understandings of oral directions as he was able to complete the sample items. Although he struggled with reading and writing, Shalev attempted to look for words with similar sounds respective to what he saw in given pictures. Shalev demonstrated the ability to identify initial sounds in unfamiliar words.

Needs: Shalev can speak at a really fast pace and at a loud range where his peers can sometimes not understand him. Sometimes Shalev will correct his pacing or sounds when reminded but can also ignore corrections. Shalev continues to need support in reading. He has a difficult time blending sounds together. During small group and one-on-one reading, Shalev will often say 'I don't know how to read' and can shut down. His lack of participation affects his progress with reading. Shalev needs to be reminded to look at the words when reading as he has a tendency to copy his peers or the adults. Shalev will make the initial sound of the word and substitute the remainder of the word with what he thinks it might be.

Performance Area:

Writing

Assessment/Monitoring Process Used:

Benchmark Advance, Informal, Observations

State/District Assessment Results:

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Strengths: Shalev can write his first name with a capital letter S. Shalev is able to orally formulate and produce complete sentences that are on topic. When Shalev participates in writing, his letters are legible with some reversals. Shalev prefers to write with pens or markers. He dislikes using pencils even with a pencil grip. With word banks and visual support, Shalev is able to produce complete written sentences with 3 to 5 words. He needs some reminders with capitals and function. He has good spacing and letter size.

Needs: Shalev does not participate often with writing. Writing is a non-preferred task and he will often refuse to complete the task. When given a writing activity, Shalev will say, 'I can't spell. I don't know how to write.' and will often times avoid completing the task. Shalev needs support in spelling and in using phonetic skills to spell unknown words. He needs support in building a paragraph. Although Shalev can orally dictate his sentences, he needs support in structuring with a topic sentence, support sentences, and finishing with a concluding sentence.

Impact of Disability: Shalev's eligibility of Specific Learning disability impacts his ability to write which impacts his involvement and progress in the general education curriculum.

Section E: Present Level of Performance

Performance Area:

Mathematics

Assessment/Monitoring Process Used:

MyMath, Informal, student work samples

State/District Assessment Results:

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Strengths: Math is a preferred academic area for Shalev. He shows good use of mental math. Shalev is able to add numbers with regrouping into the thousands. Shalev is able to decompose numbers and use anchors of 10 to help his add mentally. Shalev is able to tell time to the hour and half hour. Shalev is about to subtract multi-digit numbers without regrouping. Shalev can multiply numbers with facts of 1, 2, and 3 without any support. Shalev can count by 5s and 10s. He is able to divide equally among objects and group them. Shalev shows good understanding of word problems. He is able to determine whether to add, subtract, multiply or divide simple numbers.

Needs: Although Shalev is working on grade level math, Shalev has a difficult time with subtracting numbers that require borrowing/ regrouping. He will reverse the numbers to subtract. However, when trying to show Shalev different strategies of subtraction, he will begin to verbally protest and say 'this doesn't make any sense!' and avoid completing the task. Multiple modalities of teaching new strategies have been attempted with Shalev. He has a difficult time learning new concepts. This can be a concern as Shalev progresses into more advanced and multi-step math problems. Math is not necessarily a concern for Shalev, however if Shalev is not open to learning new strategies or math concepts, it can become challenging for him in the future.

Impact of Disability: Shalev's eligibility of Specific Learning disability impacts his ability to learn new math concepts which impacts his involvement and progress in the general education curriculum.

Section E: Present Level of Performance

Performance Area:

Behavioral Support

Assessment/Monitoring Process Used:

NPA Data collection

State/District Assessment Results:

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Strengths: as reported by NPA- BID --- Shalev demonstrates the ability to accept and follow directions, begin and complete his work and compromise with his peers. However, this is not consistent and he still requires moderate support to use the replacement behaviors when he wants access to a preferred item, wants to escape a non-preferred activity or is involved in a conflicting issue with a peer. During class instruction, Shalev will complete his classwork if he is given choices, visual supports and is familiar with the concept. He is motivated to earn stars and tickets towards the classroom store on Fridays. At times, he will state he wants to earn stars the next day or if feels like there is nothing to work towards he will refuse to participate and complete his classwork. If Shalev is given choices and space, he often returns to the activity and will engage for a specific amount of time. He will request breaks and will work towards breaks during each task. It helps Shalev to know exactly what he needs to complete before he earns a preferred activity. It will benefit Shalev to work towards accepting and following directions given less prompting and redirection. Throughout the school day, Shalev has been working on using his words to communicate his needs. There are times, he needs a break to sit at his desk without any distractions or to go outside and take a movement break. This allows Shalev to take time for himself and use self-regulation techniques. He responds to choices and directives that are brief and clear. Shalev can become overwhelmed if the instructions, class work or discussion is too long, too wordy or too loud. It is important to approach Shalev with supportive phrases and offer choices rather than making demands. Shalev responds well to time and space to process the information and communicate his needs. At times, Shalev arrives at school agitated. This often occurs when there are changes to his environment at home or at school.

Performance Area:

Behavioral support continued

Assessment/Monitoring Process Used:

State/District Assessment Results:

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Strengths continued: It will benefit Shalev to be primed before changes occur during the school day, provided with a visual schedule, self-monitoring system that he can see how he is progressing during the day (i.e., star system), and choices for work completion. According to the data results, feedback and observation; It will benefit Shalev to continue to work towards meeting the overall goal with greater consistency and less prompting.

Challenges: Shalev requires moderate support when he escalates, elopes or throws a tantrum during the school day. This often occurs when he does not get access to a preferred item or activity, there are unexpected changes to the schedule or activity, is involved in a conflicting issue with a peer or feels the work is too difficult or too long. Shalev will often push his work away or will quickly escalate by screaming and eloping out of the classroom. If he is in the classroom and he escalates, he will flip tables and chairs and throw items around the classroom. When this occurs, the rest of the class will be redirected outside and the teacher/BII will stay inside giving Shalev space and time to de-escalate. When Shalev calms down, the teacher or BII will offer choices and use supportive words. The BII will accommodate the work by using visual supports and the Premack Principle (i.e., First, then approach). As soon as Shalev follows directions and completes a portion of the assigned work, he will be given a preferred break. When the behaviors escalate, the BIIs will document in ABC narrative data and notify the BID. According to the data, the behaviors described above occur on average 2 times per week. Because of this, it is recommended to continue NPA behavior supports and services to teach Shalev the replacement behaviors given less prompting and greater accuracy.

Impact of Disability: Shalev's eligibility of Specific Learning disability impacts his ability to behave appropriately which impacts his involvement and progress in the general education curriculum.

Performance Area:

FBA Summary

Assessment/Monitoring Process Used:

Functional Behavior Assessment (FBA)

State/District Assessment Results:

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Strengths: Shalev enjoys talking about cats. Shalev is highly verbal and he likes to talk himself or share about things that he's happy about such as his grandma visiting, his cat having babies, or about his brothers and dad. Shalev's strengths in academics is math. Shalev does well with a reward system that is visual or tangible. He earns stars throughout the day to earn something he is working for at the end of the day such as chocolate, iPad time or various play time activities. Throughout the week, Shalev earns red tickets that he can save for the class store of Fridays. Shalev has started to verbally request breaks although inconsistent at times. Shalev likes to succeed in his tasks and when he is successful he is very proud of himself. Before engaging in underside behavior, Shalev sometimes verbalizes that he is getting angry and can recognize his emotions.

Needs: Shalev needs support in practicing calming strategies when escalating. He can become aggressive and have tantrums which include verbal protest, yelling or screaming. Shalev can hurt peers or adults verbally and physically. Shalev has been obsessed to throw chairs, materials and flip tables. Shalev has also been observed to elope from the class. He has a difficult time transitioning between activities or adjusting to change or disruption in routines. Shalev does not like writing which can be an academic trigger that may cause him to engage in undesired behavior. Shalev compares himself to his general education peers during mainstream and verbalizes that they 'know more' than him or are 'smarter' and fears they would make fun of him. Shalev needs reminders to keep his hands to himself, use his words or to speak softer. Shalev struggles with maintaining peer relationships as can sometimes say negative comments to them, take their things, or avoid sharing. Shalev can be defiant with authority or adults and challenge them.

Performance Area:

FBA continued

Assessment/Monitoring Process Used:

State/District Assessment Results:

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Needs continued: Shalev has expressed the concept of 'payback' as to his reasons why he engages in certain behavior. During FBA data collection, Shalev's common antecedents vary between academic demands or verbal interactions with adults. His maintaining consequence for his behavior is typically attention or escape. Shalev does not like to be told what to do, but will often times make choices from controlled options given. Shalev can change the topic during discussions or divert the attention towards unrelated issues. It is likely that when Shalev engages in aggressive behaviors it may result in elopement from the classroom. Shalev does not do well when requests are denied or if a peer is not following his lead. When Shalev elopes, it can range from a few minutes up to 60 minutes.

Impact of Disability: Shalev's eligibility of Specific Learning disability impacts his ability to behave appropriately which impacts his involvement and progress in the general education curriculum.

State/District Assessment Results:

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Strengths/functional level: Results of the current assessment indicate Shalev is functioning within the Average range of cognitive ability based upon alternative assessment procedures. Average ability is noted in simultaneous processing, including non-verbal reasoning, working memory, verbal spatial relations, auditory cohesion, including auditory comprehension and reasoning, understanding directions, expressive attention, and overall visual processing.

Needs: Low average ability is noted in successive processing, planning, phonological awareness, auditory memory, listening comprehension and broad oral language. Significant deficits, falling in below and well below average range, are indicated in phonological awareness, phonological memory, oral language, oral expression, and visual motor integration.

Impact: Shalev's Specific Learning Disability (SLD), due to significant processing deficits in sensory motor skills, auditory processing, phonological processing and association negatively impact his ability to access the general education curriculum in the general education classroom and he appears to be in need of continued special educations supports.

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Strengths: Shalev is a talkative and energetic student who likes to be independent and make his own decisions. He is friendly with peers and appears to enjoy socializing with various classmates. He is clever and often negotiates with adults.

Needs: Shalev can be defiant and oppositional with school staff and he struggles to accept the perspective of others. He verbalizes that he is mad and frustrated because he cannot read and he repeatedly becomes highly frustrated when presented with language arts tasks. His attention and impulsive behavior is variable and he resists writing activities and completing classwork often. He can focus adequately when he is motivated to complete tasks, particularly during math. Shalev can be impulsive and will run away and leave the room when he is dissatisfied or frustrated with school demands, such as completing a test or an assignment during language arts. He tends to often be self-directed and needs frequent reminders to stay on task and remain with his group. Results of the rating scales indicate consistent impulsive and hyperactive behavior at school and at home, as well as learning difficulties and executive functioning struggles. Depression is not rated as an area of concern by the child, parent or teacher. Some characteristics of Autism are noted by the teacher but not by the parents on the ASRS and he is often social and engaged with peers. High scores at school on the ASRS may be impacted by impulsive behavior and oppositional behavior, which is a significant area of concern. Shalev appears to become significantly agitated and frustrated when presented with challenging academic tasks and he avoids tasks by engaging in behaviors of defiance, walking away, running away, and aggression. Shalev struggles with self-calming strategies when he is emotionally upset and experiencing conflicts. Rating scales, including the CDI and the BASC-3 do not support that Shalev demonstrate depression at this time. Results of the attention rating scales also demonstrate inconsistent results between home and school behavior, and does not appear to be a consistent concern across settings.

Articulation

Assessment/Monitoring Process Used:

GFTA-3 and Speech Sample

State/District Assessment Results:

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Shalev is an eight year five month old boy who currently attends Serrania Charter and is in the second grade SLD SDP. He currently receives LAS services for 30 minutes per week for articulation.

STRENGTHS: Shalev's overall intelligibility has improved. He is more understandable to both his peers and adults. He is judged to be about 80% intelligible to an unknown listener on unknown topics.

NEEDS: Shalev has difficulty producing /r/ and /r/ blends and /th/ in words, phrases, and sentences. His speech breaks down even more in conversations and at times is not understood. Shalev does not like to hear when he has not produced a sound incorrectly. He often argues that he says it correctly and the neither yells at the therapist or will shut down and not participate in speech after that. All of the above are important to take into consideration when determining appropriate designated instruction services as per LAUSD Reference Guide- 4568.0 and California Education Code 56333, a student should be considered for service completion if he or she has received maximum benefit from LAS services (or does not continue to make progress), if needs can be better met within the classroom, or if the student 'consistently demonstrates behavior that inhibits progress in speech therapy such as lack of cooperation [or] motivation'.

EDUCATIONAL IMPACT: Shalev's articulation may affect his ability to access the curriculum.

State/District Assessment Results:

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

STRENGTHS: Shalev scored in the average to above average range for language. He is able to express his basic needs and wants, his preferences, his interests, his personal experiences and emotions, in order to use humor, and to socialize. His vocabulary includes objects, people, actions, places, and adjectives to describe objects. He will use simple sentence structures and often uses compound and complex sentences to discuss higher level concepts. He often will initiate communication and conversation with familiar peers and adults. He is able to answer a variety of who, what, where, when and why questions accurately regarding his immediate environment and past events. He is able to answer concrete Wh- questions and abstract questions. His conversational and turn-taking skills are appropriate for a young boy his age.

NEEDS: Shalev has no needs in the area of language.

Performance Area:

Assessment/Monitoring Process Used:

Clinical Observation, Teacher and Parent Interview, Work Samples

State/District Assessment Results:

N/A

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Students Areas of Strengths:
 Shalev presents with many strengths that assist him in accessing his educational curriculum. Shalev presents with normal range of motion and adequate strength for participating in school-related activities. In terms of postural stability, Shalev is able to sit, stand, and walk with adequate posture and endurance while sitting at a table, standing in line, and walking around campus. Shalev demonstrates a functional ability to visually track a moving object in all directions. He is able to cut a paper in half as well as simple/complex shapes with ease. Shalev is able to execute 3-step directions involving both fine motor and gross motor movements with min verbal prompts. Shalev is able to copy all uppercase and lowercase letters of the alphabet when provided a near point model. Shalev is able to write his first name and last name independently. He writes with fair legibility, good directionality of letters and applies sufficient muscle force on utensils to make writing visible. Shalev writes left to right and orients his work functionally on his page. Shalev is making progress writing within the parallel lines as well as appropriate spacing between letters and words. Shalev displays a left hand preference and utilizes a functional quadrupod grasp when using classroom utensils. He displays adequate trunk control and proximal stability to provide a stable base of support for table top activities.

Students Areas of Need:
 Shalev displays challenges with fine motor skills. Shalev presents with challenges with inconsistencies with line adherence, letter sizes, letter formation, and spacing between letters and words. Writing speed and fluidity is also a concern which affects his ability to complete assignments in the allotted time. He also struggles with letter formation and is still working on learning letters of the alphabet.

Impact of student's disability on academic and overall performance:
 Shalev has needs in the area fine motor skills which impact his ability to produce/copy words and sentences with adequate legibility at this time.

Assessment/Monitoring Process Used:

BOT-2, Teacher and Parent Interview, Clinical Observation, Work Samples

State/District Assessment Results:

N/A

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Shalev's Areas of Strength Based on School Occupational Therapy Assessment: Shalev displays strengths in many of areas assessed for school occupational therapy. He has sufficient upper body strength and postural stability to maintain various upright positions both in his chair and sitting on the floor and to carry necessary school materials. He is able to navigate his school environment independently. He also has adequate fine motor dexterity to manipulate small objects and to perform school-related tasks requiring a sufficient amount of strength (i.e., opening containers, buttoning, stapling, and cutting). Even though his attention span for coloring is very limited, he is able to color showing attention to boundaries. When Shalev takes his time, he can copy simple shapes, trace lines and draw within boundaries of a maze. He is able to complete age appropriate puzzles. Shalev demonstrates adequate proprioceptive feedback to assume various positions (body awareness) and can navigate his environment without bumping into objects. He demonstrated the ability to use appropriate force with most classroom materials. Shalev is able to manage his self-care skills independently including managing his clothing and eating. Shalev has friends at school but has impulse control challenges that affects his ability to get along with other children.

Performance Area:

Fine Motor (IEE)

Assessment/Monitoring Process Used:

BOT-2, Teacher and Parent Interview, Clinical Observation, Work Samples

State/District Assessment Results:

Current Performance/Assessment Summary (include student strengths, student needs and impact of disability on student performance):

Shalev's Areas of Need Based on School Occupational Therapy Assessment: Shalev demonstrates concerns with his fine motor and visual motor skills, specifically, with fine motor coordination for controlling his pencil and holding writing utensils with a functional grasp. His scores were below averaged in the BOT areas of fine motor control and manual coordination. Shalev's progress with these skills are affected by his difficulty with self-control, attention, task avoidance, and compliance in the classroom. These behaviors appear to be behaviorally based rather than sensory seeking or avoiding, however sensory strategies may be further explored to determine their effectiveness on his attention.

Recommendations: Shalev is displaying needs that interfere with his ability to access his curriculum and keep up with his class. School occupational therapy services are continued to be recommended as a support service to his school setting for a total of 30 minutes per week. It has been a pleasure to work with Shalev and his supportive school staff.

<input type="radio"/> Home/Hospital or Residential Care Facility

DIRECTIONS: Complete the information below as part of the IEP team discussion regarding placement from the beginning at Step A until the team reaches the Step that indicates YES. After reaching the Step that indicates YES, it is also required to complete Step F.

The Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) requires that students with disabilities be educated in the least restrictive environment. Placement in a more restrictive setting should only occur if the nature or severity of the student's disability is such that placement in a less restrictive setting with the use of supplementary aids and services cannot be achieved satisfactorily. The lack of current availability of a student's required supports, services, accommodations and modifications is not the sole justification for placement in a more restrictive setting, unless there is a compelling reason why they cannot be provided. In selecting the LRE, consideration is given to any potential harmful effect on the child or on the quality of services that he or she needs.

Step A.	Can the supports, services, accommodations and/or modifications in the student's IEP be made available in a general education classroom/setting?
	<input type="radio"/> Yes <input checked="" type="radio"/> No If the answer is YES, then a general education classroom/setting is the appropriate placement. If the answer is NO, go to the question below.
	<input type="radio"/> Yes <input checked="" type="radio"/> No If not currently available, can the required supports, services, accommodations and/or modifications be made available in a general education classroom/setting? If YES, all required supports, services, accommodations and/or modifications must be provided within a reasonable timeline. If the answer is NO, please articulate why in the box below. Then go to Step B.
<input type="text" value="Shalev needs a small class size to support him in his academics."/>

Step B.	Can the supports, services, accommodations and/or modifications in the student's IEP be made available on a general education site in a special day program?
	<input checked="" type="radio"/> Yes <input type="radio"/> No If the answer is YES, then a special day program on a general education site is the appropriate placement. If the answer is NO, go to the question below.

INDIVIDUALIZED EDUCATION PROGRAM
LANGUAGE AND SPEECH SERVICES CERTIFICATION (LAS CERTIFICATION)

Los Angeles Unified School District

Attachment B

Student: HALEV OHANA

Date
of
Birth: 22-OCT-2010Meeting
Date: 21-AUG-2019

This page is to be completed for students with Special Education eligibility other than SLI when determining the need for LAS services to support the provision of FAPE.

Complete Step 1a or 1b

Step 1a. General Education Interventions - Check items as completed

- Intervention strategies implemented, including English Language Instruction or RtI2 prevention support (including but not limited to school staff development regarding language standards in the curriculum and referral for Special Education, consultation between the classroom teacher and school speech therapist for appropriate classroom accommodations, consultation with the SSPT that includes an EL expert if student is identified as an English Learner).
- Intervention support monitored over several weeks, and modified interventions as necessary based on student response.
- Interventions were not successful, student referred for special education assessment .
- Screening by a speech therapist or a Student Success Team meeting (including a speech therapist) with the focus being speech and language concerns OR an approved screening instrument for non-LAUSD enrolled preschoolers.

Step 1b. Interventions Not Applicable

- Interventions not applicable for non-LAUSD enrolled preschoolers or when determined unnecessary by the speech therapist.

Step 2. Review of Pre-referral Information - Check items as applicable

- The speech or language delay does not appear to be due to unfamiliarity with English.
- The delay does not appear to be due to a lack of instruction in English, dialectical factors or limited language experience.
- The delay does not appear to be due to environmental factors.
- The delay does not appear to be due to economic factors.
- The delay does not appear to be due to social or cultural factors.

Step 3. Assessment - Check either A or B, and complete the remaining items

- A. Student has received an assessment by a school psychologist that gives an indication of where the student's general ability lies. (if a language impairment is suspected)
- OR
- B. A Psychological Assessment is not required if the suspected area of disability is voice, fluency or articulation.
- Student has received a health assessment that rules out whether an inability to communicate effectively is a result of a health or sensory condition.
- A credentialed or licensed speech therapist has conducted a comprehensive evaluation, including assessment in the student's primary language, that consists of multiple measures of assessment, including but not limited to standardized test instruments (or alternate forms of assessment if necessary), formal speech/language sample, parent interview or checklist, teacher interview or checklist, and observation in various communication settings.

Step 4. Determination of the Need for LAS Service (for students with Special Education eligibility other than SLI):

- The IEP team has determined that speech and language related services and support are necessary for the student to benefit from Special Education. Speech and Language Services are necessary due to the results of a formal assessment, which indicates that the student demonstrates difficulty understanding or using spoken language to such an extent that it adversely affects his/her educational performance and cannot be corrected without speech and language related services.
 - The presenting need for LAS service is not due to: social maladjustment, health factors, poor school attendance, environmental, economic, or social disadvantage, or lack of instruction or the unfamiliarity with the English language.
- If the above is so, identify the area(s) of difficulty:
- Language disorder
 - Articulation disorder
 - Fluency disorder
 - Voice disorder

If the student is eligible, the IEP Team must consider service delivery models based on the student's identified needs and appropriate placement in the least restrictive environment. The IEP team should also include teacher and parent participation in the implementation of goals and supports and accommodations to ensure achievement of goals and objectives in a time-efficient manner and carry-over to multiple communication contexts.
