PROFILE

During my studies and my Ph.D., I have gained extensive experience in proofreading and editing academic and non-academic texts in German and English. Over the past seven years, I have edited and corrected various types of text, such as (scholarly) articles, dissertations, essays, lectures, and applications, especially in the field of Jewish Thought, Culture and History. I have a profound knowledge of grammar and spelling and an excellent feeling for language. I love to work in teams but also work well independently.
