SPECIAL SKILLS

I have extensive experience in academic writing and copyediting articles for journal publications. This also includes assisting ESL PhD and masters students in editing research papers for thesis and English journal publications. However, I also have experience writing and editing other forms of copy, such as blogs, news, and policy articles. The academic writing styles that I am familiar with include APA, AP, MLA, Harvard, and Chicago. Moreover, in my editing work, I make use of specialized editing software, which represents state-of-the-art artificial intelligence. They include PerfectIt and The Scribendi Accelerator.
