Interests

I am an avid traveller with an insatiable interest in languages and cultures. I have been living in Madrid for the past year doing a masters, I choose to study there to benefit from fully immersing myself in the Spanish language and culture. I also spent a year in Andalusia teaching English as part of my undergraduate degree. I took a gap year between finishing my A Levels and beginning university in which I worked at home for the first few months and then travelled extensively. During my undergraduate I did a beginners course in Portuguese and recently in Madrid I attended a beginner's Italian course, I thoroughly enjoyed both of these and intend to pursue these languages. My other hobbies include yoga and reading, I enjoy reading both classical and modern fiction in Spanish and English.
