WITHOUT TRANSLATION WE WOULD BE LIVING IN PROVINCES BORDERING ON SILENCE

George Steiner

Hi! My name is Muhammad Said, an English <> Arabic translation & localization professional, an editor, a copywriter, a liaison interpreter, a podcaster, a speaker, and a ProZ.com translation trainer & mentor.

With over 11 years of experience in translation and localization industry, I have an in-depth knowledge of a range of computer assisted translation (CAT) tools, stand-alone & cloud-based, and translated +4M words in many fields, with +1M words in medical and pharmaceutical translations over the course of my career.

In 2007, I started my language career as a teaching assistant at Helwan University, with a parallel career in translation. Then, in 2013, I started investing more time, and money, to learn every aspect of the translation and localization industry.

And finally, my teaching and training passion drove me to help translation peers and newbies understand every discipline in the industry. Since 2016, I am proud to serve as a ProZ.com mentor. Therefore, I will be happy to help my colleagues and translation. newbies start their career in translation and localization.

In 2016, I founded L10n Academy, a professional translation & localization training resource, run by me, to bridge the gap between academia and the translation and localization industry. The main content of the academy is the L10n Academy Podcast, the first Arabic podcast about translation, localization, and linguistics in Egypt and the MENA region.

We are pleased to recommend the work performed by Mohamed Said as an interpreter / Fixer for Democracy International's international observation witnessing mission in Egypt (January 2014). He served as the primary link of communication between Democracy International's election witnesses and key stakeholders in the electoral process. Mohamed interpreted questions and responses from witnesses to senior election and security officials, political representatives, domestic observers, Civil Society players, and voters. Mohamed was always professional in his work, despite any challenges that arose, and demonstrated a strong level of English.

Mohamed also responded to the needs of the team in an efficient manner and quickly adjusted to changing situations. Mohamed displayed a strong ability to multi-task and followed through on assignments, regularly acting on his own initiative to identify and tackle outstanding tasks essential to the success of the team.

Mohamed worked long hours in a challenging, high stress, and fast-paced environment. Despite these challenges, Mohamed undertook the job with a positive and respectful attitude. Muhammad also served as a troubleshooter for logistical issues that arose throughout the course of mission. He responded to the needs of the team in an efficient manner. Indeed, Muhammad displayed a strong ability to multi-task and followed through on assignments, regularly acting on his own initiative to identify and tackle outstanding tasks essential to the success of the team.

Muhammad worked extremely long hours in a challenging, high stress, and fast-paced environment. Despite these challenges, Muhammad undertook the job with a positive attitude. He displayed great initiative and keen interpreting ability while working long hours in the field without complaint. A theme of the age, at least in the developed world, is that people crave silence and can find none. The roar of traffic, the ceaseless beep of phones, digital announcements in buses and trains, TV sets blaring even in empty offices, are an endless battery and distraction. The human race is exhausting itself with noise and longs for its opposite—whether in the wilds, on the wide ocean or in some retreat dedicated to stillness and concentration. Alain Corbin, a history professor, writes from his refuge in the Sorbonne, and Erling Kagge, a Norwegian explorer, from his memories of the wastes of Antarctica, where both have tried to escape.

And yet, as Mr Corbin points out in "A History of Silence", there is probably no more noise than there used to be. Before pneumatic tyres, city streets were full of the deafening clang of metal-rimmed wheels and horseshoes on stone. Before voluntary isolation on mobile phones, buses and trains rang with conversation. Newspaper-sellers did not leave their wares in a mute pile, but advertised them at top volume, as did vendors of cherries, violets and fresh mackerel. The theatre and the opera were a chaos of huzzahs and barracking. Even in the countryside, peasants sang as they drudged. They don't sing now.

What has changed is not so much the level of noise, which previous centuries also complained about, but the level of distraction, which occupies the space that silence might invade. There looms another paradox, because when it does invade—in the depths of a pine forest, in the naked desert, in a suddenly vacated room—it often proves unnerving rather than welcome. Dread creeps in; the ear instinctively fastens on anything, whether fire-hiss or bird call or susurrus of leaves, that will save it from this unknown emptiness. People want silence, but not that much.

Source: People crave silence, yet are unnerved by it, The Economist

بات الجميع يحملون بهجرة شرعية إلى أحضان الصمت، لا سيما شعوب الدول المتقدمة؛ ولم لا وقد أضحى هذا الحلم سمة هذا العصر، لكن ما كل ما يتمناه المرء يدركه. فإذا بهم ترتطم سفنهم برياح محملة بصخب المرور، وصراخ الهواتف الذي لا ينتهي، والإعلانات الرقمية داخل الحافلات والقطارات، وأصوات أجهزة التلفاز المزعجة حتى داخل المكاتب الخاوية، وكأنه ليل بهيم من شroud الأذهان لن تشرق شمسها أبداً. وإذ بأموج الضجيج تلطم طاقات الجنس البشري، حتى صاروا يتشوقون إلى حظ رحالهم على شاطئ يكسوه الهدوء، ولم تطأه قدم، أو أن ترسى أمانهم على محيط واسع، أو أن يطلبوا لجوءاً سلمياً إلى مكان تُعنون السكينة وصفاء الذهن شوارعه. تلك هي الكلمات التي سطرها آليان كورين، أستاذ التاريخ، من معتكفه في جامعة السوربون، وإيرلينج كاج، المستكشف النرويجي، من واقع مذكراته التي دوّنها في أراضي القطب الجنوبي الجرداء؛ حيث حاول الاثنان الفرار من صخب الحياة.

رغم ذلك، وحسبما أشار السيد كورين في كتابه "تاريخ الصمت"، ربما لم تتجاوز الضوضاء ما كانت عليه فيما مضى. إذ كانت شوارع المدينة، قبل ظهور الإطارات الهوائية، تُصاب بالصمم من ضجيج الرنين الصادر عن العجلات المعدنية وحدوات الأحصنة على الأحجار. وكانت الحافلات والقطارات تطنّ أصواتها بأحاديث الناس، قبل عزلة ارتضوها على أنفسهم من هواتفهم المحمولة. ولم يكن بائعو الصحف ليفوتوا فرصة بيع بضاعتهم في هدوء، بل ضجّوا بأصواتهم يعلنون عنها، هم وبائعو الكرز وزهور البنفسج وأسماك الماكريل الطازجة. واجتاحت المسرح والأوبرا فوضى الهتافات والصراخ. حتى الريف لم يَسلم، فقد شدا الفلاحون أغانيهم وقت كدحهم، لكنهم عزفوا عن الغناء الآن.

ليس مستوى الضوضاء هو ما تغيّر كثيراً، تلك الضوضاء التي اشتكت منها القرون الماضية أيضاً، بل مستوى شroud الأذهان، الذي بات يشغل مساحةً كان يغزوها الصمت. وإذ بمفارقة أخرى تلوح في الأفق؛ لأنه في الوقت الذي يحتاج فيه الصمت أعماق غابات الصنوبر، والصحراء الجرداء، وغرفة حلت فجأة، كثيراً ما يثبت الصمت أن وجوده أضحى مثيراً للغضب أكثر مما كان مرحّباً به. حينئذ يتحسس الفزع أولى خطواته، لتدفع الغريزة أذاننا إلى الإنصات إلى أي شيء، سواء كان حسيس النيران، أو شقشقة العصافير، أو حفيف أوراق الشجر، لتتقدّها من هذا الخلاء المجهول. فالناس يريدون الصمت، ولكن ليس بهذا القدر.

- All patients with IBD should be assessed for the presence of iron deficiency/anaemia by their gastroenterologist. However, many patients with undiagnosed IBD will first present to GP following iron deficiency/anaemia symptoms, resulting in an IBD diagnosis.
- Choice between Intravenous and oral routes for iron therapy depends on the factors listed to the left according to the guidelines. Still most patients will usually begin on oral iron therapy.
- IBD-associated Iron Deficiency/anaemia recur even after treatment with Intravenous iron therapy, therefore patients with IBD should be monitored every 3 months for 1 year after correction, and between 6-12 months thereafter

- Balance the potential benefits of avoiding or minimizing blood transfusions, ESA therapy, and anaemia-related symptoms against the risks of harm in individual patients
- Intravenous iron therapy should be considered as 1st Line therapy for patients already undergoing dialysis for CKD
- For patients with Non dialysis-CKD, selection of the route of iron administration should be based on the severity of iron deficiency, availability of venous access, response to prior oral iron therapy, side effects with prior oral or IV iron therapy, patient compliance, and cost

- ينبغي التفكير في العلاج بالحديد عن طريق الوريد كمرحلة علاجية أولى للمرضى الذين يخضعون بالفعل للغسيل الكروي بسبب مرض كروي مزمن
- أما عن الذين يعانون مرضاً مزمنًا في الكلى ولا يخضعون للغسيل الكروي، فينبغي أن يعتمد اختيار مسار العلاج بالحديد على مدى شدة نقصه، وتوافر الوصول إلى الوريد، والاستجابة إلى العلاج بالحديد عن طريق الفم من قبل، والآثار الجانبية المصاحبة للعلاج بالحديد عن طريق الفم أو الوريد فيما مضى، والتزام المريض، فضلاً عن التكلفة
- تعاني نحو 41.8% من السيدات الحوامل من فقر الدم في جميع أنحاء العالم، ويرجع السبب في نصف تلك الحالات على الأقل إلى نقص الحديد. قد تؤثر الإصابة بفقر الدم الناتج عن نقص الحديد في الطفل داخل الرحم وعلى المدى الطويل؛ إذا صاحب فقر الدم خطورة التعرّض للولادة المبكرة، والزيغ بعد الولادة، ووفاة الطفل، فضلاً عن الأمراض المعدية.

Preparing to Manage Human Resources.

One way or another, all employees are managed. But approaches to managing employees varying from employee-to-employee, job-to-job, manager-to-manager, organization-to-organization, and country-to-country. This course provides a foundation for developing your own approach to skillfully managing employees by illustrating alternative human resource management (HRM) strategies, introducing the importance of the legal context, and thinking about what motivates employees. This will then give you the factual and conceptual basis for developing specific, critical HRM skills in subsequent courses on hiring employees, managing performance, and rewarding employees.

Don't know anything about HRM? That's OK!

Leave this course with a new-found understanding of the range of options available for managing employees, a grasp of what makes workers tick, and the readiness to develop your own HRM skills.
