

Dignity First

The words and stories of love written throughout history are .never-ending

Sincere love is an indomitable energy and ability that no one can suppress. Sincere love is an ability that one can use to change everything around them. The lover is that person who can feel his lover's silence before he understands his lover's words; otherwise, he is not worthy of his love. However, no matter how strong the passion of love is, a person's self-esteem, self-esteem, and the preservation of their dignity overcomes poor love. Sami's love story began when he was a student in medical school. At that time, the girl was a student in the faculty of mass communication. From the first sight, he fell in love with her. He was a very diligent student. He had a sense of humor to the highest limits, but he was also committed and .academically successful in his normal life

He was from a middle-income family, who did not suffer from financial problems or life difficulties because of money. The only obstacle in his life was how to be able to confess to his girl with his sincere love for her, and indeed, he did not despair and tried hard to reveal his feelings to her in a way that made most girls become seduced by the girl attracted to him. On her birthday, he bought her a very beautiful gift. He wished her a long life. He worked hard in his studies when he was in his fifth year of medical school so that he could persuade his father to go to her mother and ask for her daughter's hand. He fears

Allah in his love and fear of her, and calls for her in every .prostration

The girl was swept away with her friends, and her temperament changed little by little, and the reason was to complete with a wealthy young man who was able to win her admiration for him and take her heart. He was rich. She did everything she could do for him to win his heart, but what was the fate of Karim

After his long suffering with her and her mistreatment of him and her rejection of him because of his being deceived by false appearances, she took off the veil and started staying up with her friends at night, and despite the young man's many attempts to bring her back to the right path, wear the veil again, and preserve herself, he took an oath on himself not to leave her to herself and her desires, so she would be the loser in the end, but the girl surprised him when she decided to separate from him and hurt his feelings with the worst words. She told him that her lifestyle is completely different from his, that she couldn't stand it any longer, and that she wanted to .divorce him. And she asked her not to get in her way again

The young man was astonished at the girl whose heart beat for the first time for her. He was so smart that he turned all his negative feelings into his studies, as it shocked him, and there was only one week left for him to enroll in the end-of-year exams. The young man graduated from medical school and had not yet passed his experience and did not skip everything that happened to him because of the girl who made a mistake in choosing and choosing his heart. Due to his enjoyment of a sense of humor, he was able to control his feelings in front of others, but about his heart was still broken

He was chosen to work in that center because of his excellence, and he was receiving large sums of money as a result of his success and excellence in his field. He was very proficient in his work despite his young age and his still limited experience, but he was also a distinguished doctor and very knowledgeable to the greatest extent. He devoted his entire time to his work and pleasing his Lord. A case came to the hospital: a girl was injured in a traffic accident; her car was overturned, with a temporary loss of memory, in addition to the fact that since she woke up, she had not uttered a single word. From the luck of the young doctor, the case was given to him, and as soon as he entered the room, he found the girl possessing his heart. He was shocked by the horror of her condition, which he saw on her, although her mother spoke to him, but his eyes filled with tears and grief for her

He asked her mother to sit with her alone so that he could treat her daughter as quickly as possible. He asked her to be clear with him about everything, and about the recent events that the girl had been exposed to, as it was found that the problems of losing her memory and speech were due to psychological reasons and not organic reasons, as was found by some doctors

Indeed, her mother helped him and told him, "I think that everything that happened to her was because her fiancé abandoned her, and what she learned from her friend was that when they traveled together, he tried to assault her." The days of her university would address a good young man, but the

.share

He did not feel himself except that he had blamed her mother for the condition her daughter had reached. He worked hard on her condition until she was cured, and as soon as she recovered herself, she asked him, "Do you still love me

He found himself congratulating her for her strength to recover herself safely again, but he told her, "You have taught me to
!love myself more
