OBJECTIVE

I am an English Literature graduate student with excellent communication and writing skills. I have the ability to express multi-faceted information in a coherent and creative fashion. The skills gained from my degree and my studies at Matan are immense, which include the ability to analyze and pick apart complex texts as well as communicating my own train of ideas into writing. Since I am a keen reader of texts, I am a thorough editor as well. Additionally, my knowledge and management of social media include Facebook marketing, twitter messaging and updating Pinterest boards and Instagram accounts on a daily basis.
