OBJECTIVE To be accepted for a freelance medical editor role.

WORKS / EXPERIENCE

- ✓ February 2022 – Present: Remote freelance medical editor at The Expert Editor, Australia.
- ✓ May 2020 – Present: Remote freelance medical editor at Cactus Communications, India.
I copyedit and review all types of medical manuscripts for language, grammar, readability, and scientific objectivity. I did this on a part-time basis from May 2020 to February 2022: in my later years of medical school and throughout my medical internship period. From February 2022—after successfully completing my medical internship—I settled down for a full-time medical editing career. I have edited over 1,200 academic papers (>2.1 million words) to date. The Expert Editor does not have a huge work volume (they send me about two papers a week), while Cactus Communications gives me the liberty to choose which documents to edit and when, so I still occasionally have plenty of free time at my disposal.
- ✓ July 2021 – Jan 2022: Medical doctor (Surgery and Obstetrics departments) at Kiwoko Hospital, Nakaseke, Uganda.
- ✓ February 2021 – July 2021: Medical doctor (Internal medicine and Pediatrics departments) at Kiruddu National Referral Hospital, Kampala, Uganda.
My tasks included admitting patients, making the proper diagnoses, and executing the appropriate treatment and follow-up plans.
- ✓ 2019: Vice President of the Students’ Network Organization, Uganda.
- ✓ 2018: International Team Member of the International Surgical Students’ Network (InciSioN).
- ✓ 2016/2017: Publications and New Technologies Division Director of the Federation of Uganda Medical Students’ Association (FUMSA).
